CONGRESS FIXES SIZE OF U. S. ARMY AT 175,000

Resolution is Adopted by House and Senate Directing That Recruiting Stop

Washington, Jan. 17.—Congress voted to limit the size of the regular army to 175,000 enlisted men. The senate 41 to 33 set aside the decision of last week to reduce the army to 150,000 men and then without a record vote adopted the original joint resolution of Senator New, Republican, Indiana, directing the secretary of war to stop recruiting until the army is cut to 175,000 men. The house has adopted similar measures.

The house vote on the joint resolution sponsored by Chairman Kahn of the military affairs committee, was 285 to 4. The resolution now goes to the president.

The action of the two houses was taken against the recommendations of Secretary of War Baker and Gen. Pershing. Baker is appearing before the senate military affairs committee, advised against an army of less than 150,000 men after the "present necessity for an army had been received."

Gen. Pershing told the same committee an army of 200,000 men constituted the safety margin. The senate last week went on record favoring an army of 150,000.

SAYS "OIL SPRINGS" ARE WORTH NOTHING

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 14.—Persons who put their money and faith in oil ventures founded on so-called "oil springs" that are common throughout certain sections of Kentucky might as well sink their cash in a river and forget about it, according to Prof. W. R. Jilison, Kentucky state geologist. These springs in ninety-nine cases out of 100, he said are not indications of commercial oil, but rather that there is none in the region.

Prof. Jilison's statement was prompted by a story of some oil springs in Allen county, which it was said a company had purchased and planned to develop.

"There are many oil springs in the blue grass region of Kentucky," said Prof. Jilison. "But the oil is not of commercial value because valuable volatile constituents which industry seeks have evaporated. The 'oil' that remains is merely a tarry residue of little or no commercial value. Oil springs are no indication of commercial oil in 99 out of 100 cases. They merely show that the cap of an oil pool has been broken or worn down by erosion and in practically every case the important constituents have evaporated, leaving nothing of commercial value."

"None of the important oil fields of the country has been discovered in this way. In virtually every instance the discovery has been made only through drilling and through scientific indications in the rocks that overlay the pools."

SOCIETY WILL DANCE DESPITE HARDING'S PLAN

Washington, Jan. 15.—The usual inaugural ball for March 4 has been abandoned, but there will be a ball in Washington the night President-elect Harding is inaugurated.

Essentially it will be for the benefit of children's institutions in the District of Columbia and its patronesses will include wives of Senators, Cabinet officers and others and the President-elect and Mrs. Harding will be invited.

Plans for the ball still are tentative and the place for it has not been selected. Announcement of the event came as a relief to Washington merchants who had expected that many handsome and costly gowns which had been ordered by women for the inaugural ball would prove a drug on the market.

EUROPE'S CHILDREN ARE STILL NEEDING RELIEF

President Sends Senate American Diplomats' Message Urging Work Continue.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Continuation of relief work in Europe is urged in telegrams from American diplomatic representatives there transmitted to the Senate by President Wilson in response to a request for information regarding European distress.

Hugh Gibson, American Minister to Poland, said continuation of relief work for children in that country on the present scale was "absolutely necessary to avoid starvation." The Polish Government and people, he said, were unable to provide "even a minimum for the maintenance of children."

The American Commissioner at Berlin said a large proportion of children in all German cities were "seriously underfed," and that the relief work should be continued to "save the life and preserve the health of an entire generation."

Commissioner Frazier at Vienna said 300,000 children there were being fed daily by the American Relief Administration, and that "great suffering" would follow cessation of the work. He added, however, that undue continuation of the relief work might lead to lack of effort by the inhabitants and that they should be informed that American activity was temporary only.

In transmitting the reports, the President said more complete information would be furnished later.

ALABAMANS LYNCH MINER

Victim of Quiet Mob Charged With Killing National Guardsman

Jasper, Ala., Jan. 13.—William Beard, a miner held in the Walker County Jail charged with the murder of James Morris, a National Guardsman, was taken from his cell by a mob and driven out of town in an automobile and shot to death.

The mob appeared suddenly and quietly at the jail, and the Warden, unable to summon assistance, surrendered the keys to the leaders. It was thought that Beard had been released by his friends until a rural mail carrier found his body lying by the road about three miles out of town. Meanwhile the mob had dispersed quietly.

The shooting of Morris occurred in Nauvoo, a coal mining community near here, on Dec. 28. Beard is said to have fired the shot that killed the guardsman after his father-in-law, James Northcutt a striking miner, had been killed. State troops and officers were ordered to Jasper to round up Beard while it was still thought that he had escaped.

Leslie West, proprietor of a garage at Holly Grove, was arrested in connection with the killing of Beard. He was placed in jail here.

The Japanese believe drinking milk will make them stronger and taller, and they are planning extensive importation of milch cows. The emperor, who has a model dairy farm of his own, is interested intensively in the project, and I am considering the offer. If I accept I will sail in April."

Mrs. Henning said she is seriously considering the offer.

OHIO COUNTY TEACHER TELLS SOME EXPERIENCES

On December 25, 1913 I was married to Miss Eva Martin, of Adaburg, Ohio County, Ky. Counting to December 25, 1920, we have been married just 7 years. During those 7 years I have taught school and farmed excepting 7 months I served in the U. S. Navy. I have taught 800 school days and have walked 5600 miles to and from school. One school I taught I walked 14 miles per day amid snow and sleet.

My salary averaged about $55.00 per month during the six years of teaching. By skilful handling of these meager sums and those that came from off my farm I managed to pay for a 100 acre farm and have some money left.

I just keep only two truths in my mind while journeying through and here they are: "No excellence without great labor," and "A stitch in time saves nine."

FLORIDA NOTES

(S. P. McDowell)

Crescent City, Fla., Jan. 7.—In order to redeem many promises in one effort, I thought I would just try to dot a few words to the grand old Herald, that it might relieve me of so much personal correspondence. I run onto a great many Kentucky people down here and of course Ohio County is right well represented. While Dr. Ford is located here, has purchased a nice home and is doing well, others are coming and going. Three of the Rowans are here from the southern part of the county and last but not least Carl Anderson, the Rural Route man from Hartford got in a few nights ago. He is looking fine and slick; guess he is getting plenty to eat. Of course we have all long since learned that this is no farming country, such as we have farther north, but I think it is good for what the Lord intended it for, but all the people have not found that out yet, especially in this section, for I think every fellow that can is trying to grow an orange tree. Even in the towns their lots are set in orange and grape fruit except what is covered with an immense live oak or some other shade tree. Shade trees are valued very highly here. I suppose they know the need of them a part of the year at least.

The good people here remind me of a lot of little boys fishing together; if one catches a sucker, they all drop their hooks in at that place. If part of the people here would turn their attention to growing such as they consume, and some to spare to the other fellow, it would be better for him and the other fellow too, for there is a part of this land that will produce vegetables but will not grow fruit because of the dampness. This is considered the strongest soil for they use more fertilizer here than any place I ever knew. From one and a half to two tons per acre is a common dose for the crop and some think more would be better. Much of the so called soil is as white as salt or granulated sugar and if sacked up it might be sold for either, provided you judged by the eye and not the taste. Although on this white sand has grown some very valuable pine timber and the great mystery to me is what produced it.

The fruit question of this country is like the tobacco question in Kentucky; it is always in jeopardy and even organization fails to give satisfaction.

We have a big surplus of idlers here now, having been turned loose from factories they look the country over; they look for work one day and rest the next. I suppose they brought money with them; if not, they are not likely to take much away.

Brother Barrett, send me the Herald a couple of months. I believe it will be worth more to me here in my biz than it was at Dundee. If this misses the waste basket, I will call it my first, but if it gets there I will call it the last. So love and success to the Herald and its many readers.

FORD WILL MAKE NO CHANGES

IN MODELS THIS WINTER

"We do not contemplate making any changes in our present car models," stated W. A. Ryan, General Sales Manager of the Ford Motor Co., Detroit, in denial of the out the country to the effect that Ford intended to change the design of the present car.

The statement was addressed to the Ford Branches in the United States and reads as follows: "Several Branches have reported persistent rumors in their territory to the effect that a change in body design is contemplated the first of the year, even going so far as to say that some of our branches are already receiving shipments of new body material. We have never considered it good business judgement to make any guarantee covering a definite period on matters of this nature, but you may advise your dealers that these alleged rumors are false, as we do not contemplate any changes in our present car models."

It was also pointed out that many minor changes had been made in the car during the past year, such as installing a slightly different gasoline tank, and changing the size of the steering wheel from 12 to 14 inches, and that these changes will continue to go through from time to time as they are recommended by Ford Engineers.

HONOR TO MINNESOTA WOMAN

Dr. Helen Hughes Hiescher is Chosen State President of Women's Auxiliary of Legion.

Approximately four hundred delegates from all parts of Minnesota attended the first state convention of the women's auxiliary of the American Legion in Minneapolis. The meeting marked the beginning of the national organization of the auxiliary, which is expected ultimately to bind together about ten million women, the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of former service men of the World War. The delegates at the Minnesota conference represented about 6,000 members of the 113 units of the auxiliary in that state.

The convention adopted a state constitution modeled after the tentative constitution previously used by auxiliary units, and voted to "dedicate themselves to the cardinal principles of the Legion."

Officers elected were: Dr. Helen Hiescher, president; Mrs. E. A. Lewis, first vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Coy, second vice president; Mrs. O. B. De Launier, historian; Mrs. George H. Barber, representative on the national executive committee.

Miss Pauline Curwick, representing the organization division of national headquarters, addressed the convention, outlining the plans and aims of the organization.

Kansas members of the women's auxiliary will hold their state convention January 10 and 11, and other states are expected to take similar action in the near future.

NO TIME FOR "BLUE LAWS"

Indications Are That Legion National Officers Will Not Take "Positive Stand."

"Blue law" agitation is apparently obnoxious to a large number of members of the American Legion, according to expressions of opinion received in letters at national headquarters. National officers have been called upon to take a "positive stand," particularly against those who would do away with the cigarette.

"As individual citizens and voters our membership can support on anyone what it sees fit," said one national officer of the Legion, "so long as they conform to our national constitution. I think the veteran, however, is against intolerance. The national organization of the Legion has no time for this controversy, however. We have our hands full in our effort to make life what it should be for the disabled."

NEGLECT OF DISABLED MEN

Legion's Investigation Shows Lack of Attention to Men Who Suffered Terrors of War.

Investigations by the American Legion reveal shocking conditions of mismanagement and neglect in the government's treatment of disabled veterans, according to reports of the Legion's findings made public by F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander. The Legion has launched a nationwide fight for the correction of these conditions, which Mr. Galbraith has described as "a blot and a disgrace on the name of our country."

More than 20,000 veterans are still in hospitals suffering from wounds and infirmities suffered in their country's service. Many of them have been there since they were brought back from France on the hospital ships. Their number is increasing at the rate of 2,500 a month, due mostly to the development of tuberculosis among men who were gassed. Statistics show that more than 500,000 men were discharged with disability rated higher than 10 per cent. Experts agree that the peak in hospitalization will not come for five or ten years. Yet, government hospitals at present are filled to overflowing and even contract arrangements are not being made rapidly enough to care for the ever rising tide of disabled men whose conditions demand hospitalization.

Certainly, there is no lack of willingness on the part of the American public to do all in human power to aid those who paid the price for the victory. The same experts who estimate that the peak of the problem will not come for five or ten years say in the meantime $5,000,000,000 must be spent in its solution. The government has not been niggardly. More than $500,000,000 already has been spent. Mismanagement is the gist of the Legion's charge. Lack of vision and foresight and the over-present governmental tape is blamed as responsible for the death of disabled men before aid could reach them, for the incarceration of disabled in jails and insane asylums, and the charity wards of public hospitals where they received the same treatment as paupers.

In addition to its activities in advocating reform in the conduct of the government bureaus, the American Legion has dedicated itself to the tremendous task of "humanizing" the dreary lives of 20,000 disabled buddies who are patients in the hospitals all over the country.

Every Legion post in this country has been assigned to the definite job of taking care of a certain hospital where former service men are patients.

The Women's auxiliary also will be mobilized to share in the work and civic and philanthropic organizations in the hospital towns will be enlisted.

There is also the dangerous possibility that the hospital patients, remaining day after day with no interest other than their physical condition, will become bitter against the country which once honored them and which apparently has cast them aside. In several hospitals, Bolshevik agents have distributed inflammatory literature by ingenious methods, of which an example is the inclosure of the printed matter in bouquets of flowers. In one case discovered by Legion investigators the propaganda was entitled: "You fought for America and what did you get out of it?" And indeed, it does seem that the sick veteran got little out of it except a short period of popularity, the consciousness of having done his duty and a maimed and diseased body.

"The 2,000,000 who are their buddies," said the Legion's national commander, "and are banded together in the American Legion, are determined that the hundred million shall not forget. In this work of giving the disabled man a fair deal and making him content we shall ask the co-operation of every loyal American. We fought together and we will stick together."

WOULD STEER SHY OF CAMERA

Colonel Whittlesey, Leader of "Lost Battalion," Backs Off From Motion Picture Machine.

Although Colonel Whittlesey, an active member of the American Legion, led the famous "lost battalion" through the Argonne and was one of the 51 Americans who won the blue rosette of the congressional medal of honor, he told "Fatty" Arbuckle that he would be "scared to death" if placed before a motion picture camera.

"You can starve a man; you can wound him with bullets," said Colonel Whittlesey during a recent visit to a Hollywood movie studio with the portly comedian, "but you can't dim his love for the movies. Just a few hours after my boys of the Three Hundred and Eighth infantry had landed in a safe billeting area on being relieved from their perilous position, the whole bunch were in a 'Y' hut watching a two-reel comedy."

In These Days, "Who's the boss here?" asked a traveling salesman as he stopped at a farm with a set of the World's Best Literature in 12 volumes.

"He is," replied the man at the door wearily, pointing to the hired man loafing hard in a field. "I'm only his employer."—American Legion Weekly.

City Editor: Have you got the prisoners' foot ball story? The last edition goes in 20 minutes.

New Reporter: Well, you see, before the game started six of the prisoners killed some of the guards, and got away and there wasn't any game to write about."

Then the trouble started!

And Chloroform

The candidate, after tiring his audience thoroughly, wound up as follows: "I want housing reform; I want land reform; I want education reform. I want—"

"Yes," shouted a bored voice from the audience, "you want chloroform."

True Shape HOSIERY

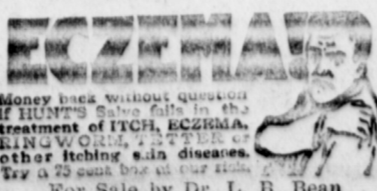

To thousands of discriminating women absolute hosiery satisfaction has been summed up in one number—TRUE SHAPE No. 564. If you haven't worn TRUE SHAPE No. 564, ask us to show you these stockings—and then please take note of these features:

FIRST, you will be impressed with its beautiful silky texture—then note the patented "cross-stitch" in the garter top which prevents runs. And while you're counting the "cross-stitch" note the fine top which makes the stocking so "snuggly" when it's often tight and binding. Now look at its shaped and cushioned leg, the narrow, dissolving foot. And the heel and toes are four-ply extra. Even—just buy one pair, and then we hope you'll be to sleep comfortable TRUE SHAPE No. 564.

The big burley tobacco markets of Kentucky were closed Jan. 4 following a refusal of the farmers to sell at the prices then prevailing. The markets have again opened and reports are that prices are considerably higher and that very few rejections have been made.
This only shows what farmers might do if they pulled together.

A Louisville minister makes the charge that many girls of that city attend dances and other public entertainments wearing only four articles of clothing two of which are stockings. A member of our force says he is in favor of taking a collection with to buy the sweet young things some clothing and as a starter he has donated three bits.

The membership of the National House of Representatives has long been too large as has been evidenced by the slowness with which business is transacted. Early in the present session it seemed that the number of members would be made still larger because of the increase in population according to the 19-20 census, but many are now of the opinion that the membership will be held down to the present number. If this is done Kentucky will lose one congressman and the state would have to be redistricted.
If it develops that a redistricting will be necessary there will be a hard fight in the coming election of state senators and representatives.
Should the Republicans be successful in electing a majority they could easily gerrymander in such a manner that several Congressional districts now Democratic would be made Republican.

VETERAN GASED IN FRANCE GIVEN MILITARY BURIAL

The body of Carl Wilson who died and was buried in France was recently exhumed and sent to Rockport, Ky., for reburial. The remains reached that city last Saturday and interment occurred Sunday afternoon in Rockport cemetery after funeral services by Rev.
D. S. Hotchkiss.

The body was buried with full military honors, and was conducted by about 30 ex-service men under the auspices of Ohio County Post
No. 44 American Legion. The men were their uniforms and a firing squad of 8 carried guns. Taps was blown by an ex-army bugler.
The deceased was born Aug. 5, 1883 and was thus not within the first draft age. However he desired to take a part in the great conflict and after two attempts succeeded in enlisting. He was gassed in October 1918 while serving on the Meuse Argonne front and was sent back to a base hospital where he died of pneumonia Dec.
5, of that year.

Besides his mother he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Jess Burgher, of Echoles and Miss Maggie Wilson, of Rockport; three brothers, Alec Walter and John Wilson, all of Rockport, besides a host of others who while sorrowful for his death, admire his courage in giving his all for the cause of right.

The following obituary was read by Rev. Brill at the funeral of Mr.
James Hudson, at Kiefer, Oklahoma:

James Hudson was born in Hartford, Ohio County Ky., March 18, 1863 and died in Kiefer, Oklahoma on Dec. 28, 1920. His home was in Hartford until about seven years ago, when he came to Oklahoma.
His parents were Eliza J. and Al-

The Truth Out

A negress came to St. Louis city dispensary with a badly broken jaw.
The doctor questioned her as to how she got it. She gave evasive answers. Finally she admitted she was "hit with a object." "Was it a large object?" asked the physician.
"To'able large." "Was it a hard object or a soft object?" "To'able hard." "Was it coming rapidly or slowly?" "To'able fast." Then she patience exhausted, she exclaimed:
"To tell de truf, doctor, I was jest nach'ly kick' in de face by a gemman friend."

RESOLUTIONS

Hartford Lodge No. 675 F. & A.
M. was this day called in Special Communication to pay the last respects to our brother, Alfred James Carter, who died Jan. the 10th, 1921.

Brother Carter became a member of Hartford Lodge No. 675 on Sept.
4th, 1893, when he was elected to membership on Demit from Hermitage Lodge No. 356, of the ful member of this lodge since that date.

In his death the lodge has lost a highly esteemed member and the community a citizen whose daily life exemplified the exalted principles of true manhood and true Masonry.

Although quiet, dignified and unassuming, he was ever diligent in the good and progressive movements of his community, and his useful and unselfish life will be an ever-enduring monument to his memory in his community and with those who knew him.

And as it has pleased the AL-MIGHTY GOD in HIS infinite wisdom to call from labor on earth to that LODGE on HIGH, our beloved brother, Alfred James Carter, and whereas brother Carter was ready at all times to assist in advancing the interests of his lodge, church and community, therefore be it

Resolved, That Hartford Lodge
No. 675 has lost a true and faithful member, his family a devoted husband and father and the community an honored and useful citizen.

Resolved, That we extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy and commend them to HIM who alone can comfort them in this, their hour of bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and a copy spread upon the record book of our lodge.

What Is a Square Deal

A Statement
by
T. J. Turley.

A Few
Bargains
Made Possible By A Square Deal
Policy

We believe that in order to successfully carry on any business today, there must be the element of fair-play between the merchant and his customer.

The day of the price gouger and business pirate has seen its close. The merchant knows or should know, that the public refuses to be the goat after so long a time and that the sooner he settles down to a square-deal policy, the better it will be for all concerned.

We do not claim to be the only men who offer their customers a square deal. There are many right here in this section who are doing it, but we do want to say that we are now, and always have been, offering our customers the highest grade of goods at the least possible cost to them. Our customers will back us in this statement, I am sure—else, how could we have placed sixty-five tractors in Daviess county and had our name on every other farm wagon you see on the road?

We have been satisfied with a small profit on the individual sale, knowing full well that we would make it up in the long run by making MANY of them. We have studied market conditions—found out what our trade demanded, and basing our purchases on this knowledge, bought goods in enormous quantities, thereby securing liberal quantity discounts, and by having our goods delivered in car shipments, we were enabled to save many dollars in freight. That's how it happens that during the last four years you have been buying goods from us at prices ranging from 20 to 40 per cent. under the market—and that's our definition of square deal in the implement business.

We have been successful—certainly, or we could not have stayed in business, but this success has not come through gouging the customer. What we have done may be attributed to but two things; knowing our business, and a square-deal policy.

We buy direct from the manufacturer in from three to five car quantities. We have the Bain, Weber and Schutler. Prices extremely moderate. For example, a 3x1½x5-8 Medium Wagon is selling on the present market at $175. Our price $135	Disc Harrows. Market price $65.00. Our price 50-Tooth Harrows. Market price $22.50 Case Steel Plows. Market price $20.00	Made of No. 1 Whole Stock Leather. No split leather. Bridles at pre-war prices. Collars. All grades. Present market price $6 to $10. Our advice is to buy now. All of our goods were bought before the advanced freight rates were put on and are priced accordingly. When this stock is exhausted, we will have to pay an increased freight rate and buy on the present market, which, as we have explained, will not justify us in such prices as the above, and we want our customers to know it at this time.

Farm Bureau Organizer

B. F. Smoot, farmer, of Sturgeon, Boone County, Mo., has been employed by the Organization Committee, of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, to do organization work in Kentucky.

Mr. Smoot has already started work in the Western end of the State with headquarters at Paducah and will put on membership campaign in the following counties: Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, McCracken, Graves, Livingston, Marshall and Callaway.

Says the "Missouri Ruralist": "No man in the United States has a more sincere interest in the welfare of the farmer than has B. F. Smoot, farmer of Boone County, Mr. Smoot owns and operates a farm and has made a study of marketing problems ever since he was graduated from the Missouri College of Agriculture. He has served as secretary of the Missouri Farmer's Association and secretary of the National Farmers Association. His words ring true.

The Organization Committee has ALSO EMPLOYED Mr. S. J. Lowry of Hopkinsville to do organization work in counties surrounding Christian and have further employed John Offutt of Bardstown, Ky., who was campaign chairman of the Nelson County Campaign and who accomplished splendid results in that work. Mr. Offutt is a very high class farmer and has great ability in organization work. He will be available for organization work in the Central part of the state.

Tractor School

That internal combustion engines such as are used on tractors and automobiles are not complicated when analyzed in a systematic way is the statement of Earl G. Welch, extension specialist in Farm Engineering from the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, who will conduct a two-day tractor school in Ohio County, February 21 and 22. The school will be held at Beaver Dam, Ky., under the auspices of County Agent M. L. McCracken, the state college of agriculture, and several local agents and tractor companies who are co-operating. The school will be conducted free of charge for all farmers in this county who care to take it.

A systematic study of all parts of the internal combustion engine will be one of the features of the school, according to Mr. Welch. The mechanical system, the carburetor system, the cooling, ignition, air and gas, lubrication and governing systems will all be explained in detail to those taking the course. Illustrated lectures will be given on the various subjects after which those enrolled in the course will be allowed to study the systems on representative types of machines which will be available.

All work connected with the school has been designed to make prospective owners and present owners of tractors more efficient operators. All phases in the care and operation of tractors will be given full attention both in lectures and laboratory work.

Full particulars concerning the course may be obtained from County Agent, M. L. McCracken.

"It doesn't make any difference," was the unexpected reply.

"Doesn't make any difference!" exclaimed the salesgirl. "Why, don't you think your wife would like a certain color?"

"No, it makes no difference what color I get, or what size. I shall have to come back tomorrow to have it changed."

Democrats Must Avoid Role of Opposition, White Asserts

New York, Jan. 15.—George White Democratic National Committee Chairman, does not believe that the Democratic party shall fall into the role of an opposition party, standing merely upon a negative attitude. His views were made known here after a series of discussions in Columbus and Washington with leaders including Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio.

The party even in its minority period must frame measures embodying its ideas, he says. In an interview Chairman White outlined his views of the situation as follows:

"I see in the newspapers from time to time speculation as to Democratic leadership in the future, and as to the size of the normal Democratic vote in the country. It does not seem to me that these questions form the issue. Our concern should not be with leadership or the extent of the party following but we should concern ourselves with reference to a party program.

"During the next four years it never will do for us to be merely a party of opposition. We ought to draw the line on every occasion possible between the caustic, aggressively created element in the country and the stand-pat, hold-fast on-moving element.

"To do this we should know what our philosophy of government commands us to do under the conditions political and social that obtain today in America and elsewhere.

"Have we a policy as to labor and capital, or one as to internal improvements—waters, lands reclamation, railroads? One as to finances and taxation, or one as to the better methods of distributing the essentials? One as to foreign trade its extension and protection or one as to the Americanization of our residents of foreign birth and the education of our illiterates? One as to the conservation of child life of the country, or one as to the reorganization of the Government departments which universally is regarded as being essential?

"Have we a definite policy as to these, among other matters for which those who represent the party in Congress will stand?

"All these are problems immediate and real. If the Democratic party is entitled to life it must be because of its attitude and policy with relation to them.

"Now boldly—is it entitled to live? The answer is, let it prove its right and announce itself not with the blare of trumpets but in an appropriate manner. Not as being merely opposed to something of Republican devising, but as positively in favor of something that is practically in line with the best traditions of the party and nation and something that it will be glad if the Republican will steal and make their own.

"An opposition that satisfies its conscience by saying, 'No' when a vote is taken does not help the country. A successful democracy, rather than the successful Democracy—that note strongly struck will form its own following and bring whatever leadership is needed, for statesmanship is the best politics."

"PROHIBITION IS FAVORED"

Though Nation Never Will Be Dry, Says Federal Commissioner

Washington, Jan. 15.—The United States will never be dry literally, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer, declared here, through he expressed the opinion prohibition is here to stay. Sentiment throughout the country, he said is growing stronger for prohibition and practical prohibition will come after the present generation, which is familiar with liquor is gone he added, though there always will be some few individuals who will make intoxicants in their homes. The sons and daughters of the men of to-day he declared will grow up without a taste for liquor.

The Commissioner declared that the country as a whole is behind the amendment to the constitution. New York and the East he asserted do not reflect the attitude of the country at large. West of Pittsburgh the country is dry.

Mr. Kramer described the majority of the prohibition agents as men who could "take a drink in order to carry out their orders," but his best agent, he said was a Methodist minister.

INCREASE IN ALCOHOLISM SHOWN

New York, Jan. 15.—Almost twice as many men and women were treated in New York City hospitals for alcoholism during the last four months of 1920 than during the same period of 1919, according to figures published here in a letter from Bird S. Color, Commissioner of Public Welfare, to Mayor John F. Hylan.

During the 1919 period mentioned 632 cases were treated in the city institutions, as against 1,311 cases for the last four months of 1920.

These figures added to interest in the Federal investigation now being made of alleged widespread forging of permits for withdrawal of bonded liquor from Government warehouses and counterfeiting of labels of wellknown brands of liquor.

Commissioner Color's letter to Mayor Hylan stated that the first three months of prohibition showed a perpendicular drop in alcoholism, but that recent months showed an "almost equally abrupt ascent."

The reasons for the slump in alcoholic addicts at first were given by the Commissioner as "fear of death" from wood alcohol, timidity on the part of saloonkeepers and lack of organization among bootleggers. As time went on, however every one concerned became bolder he said.

DRY LAW RESPONSIBLE

For Increase in Insanity Cases Says Illinois Physician

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Cases of insanity from alcoholism have increased in the Cook County Psychopathic Hospital since prohibition went into effect, according to the quarterly report of Dr. James Whitney Hall, Chairman of the Insanity Commission for the county.

Dr. Hall reported an increase of 33 per cent in alcoholic cases in December, 1920, over the last officially "wet" December.

A slight increase was noted in October over previous October, while in September the increase was 30 per cent according to the report.

Dr. Hall attributed the increase "either to the fact that prohibition does not prohibit or else there is more 'kick' in the modern drinks than in the days when liquor selling was legal."

EXPERTS TAKING OVER KENTUCKY DRY HOLES

Bowling Green, Jan. 18.—"Is your dry hole for sale? We'll buy it." An advertisement in substantially those words is being run in daily newspapers and oil journals of Kentucky. The advertisement has paid handsomely, for the reason that the purchasing syndicate takes over properties operated by men inexperienced in the oil business and who consequently are not competent to judge whether they have a paying or non-paying producer.

Another class of wells bought are those considerably removed from pipe lines and owned by men or associations of men who haven't the funds to erect storage or lay a pipe line. There are in instances of two, three or five men forming a syndicate and using all their funds to drill a hole which proved unprofitable because they were not equipped to handle the oil or believed they had an unprofitable well. Many properties of these syndicates have been bought by experienced men, the wells cleaned out and put on the pump and the property made valuable.

A league of operators has been formed in Bowling Green to take over and develop just such properties in the western part of the state. It is composed of experienced operators, geologists, engineers and business men, who are operating for profit and who also believe that the resources of the state should be as far as possible taken out of the hands of amateurs.

WHAT'S THE CAUSE?

"Paris Swamped With Crime" is the caption of an article in the New York World, which gives the details of last year, the worst crime year in the history of the French capital. 104 murders were committed, 14,000 persons charged with felonies, and 45,000 women arrested for offense against public morals. Thefts total value of the year's loot at $4,560,000. For some months the World has been industriously circulating the impression that prohibition is responsible for the crime wave in America. It should reflect upon conditions in Paris, where the liquor law, we are imagine, are exactly to its liking.—Elizabethtown News.

Faith of Nation Solemnly Pledged to Pay Postal Savings Deposits

The United States Postal Savings System is today marking its tenth anniversary by issuing a new postal savings card which will displace the 10-cent postal savings card which has been in use since the establishment of the System on January 1, 1911.

The new card will be furnished free of cost and when ten 10-cent postal savings stamps have been affixed to it will be accepted at any depository office as a deposit of $1 or it may be redeemed in cash. The outstanding feature of the new card is the translation into twenty-four foreign languages of the statement that the faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of deposits made with the System.

The Service was first established at forty-eight post offices, one in each state, on January 1, 1911, and although hampered by many restrictions as to rate of interest and maximum amount allowed on deposit, it has shown remarkable progress. Postmaster General Burleson announces that the amount on deposit today is more than $162,000,000 and its depositors have long since passed the one-half million mark.

As predicted by its proponents in the days before the passage of the original Postal Savings Act, our foreign born citizens have been the principal patrons of the System. Taught in their native countries to look to the Government to safeguard their savings, they naturally expect this Government to do likewise. In the present flood tide of immigration, each newcomer as he leaves the port of entry, receives a leaflet in his own language outlining the method of operation of the United States Postal Savings System and urging upon him the desirability of continuing in this country the practice of thrift which has been so necessary in the country he has just left. The Service is, therefore, one of the most potent factors in furthering the Americanization movement.

Many banks, usually savings banks, prior to the establishment of the System felt that the Postal Savings System would be a strong competitor but experience has shown that the Postal Savings System draws its patrons not from depositors in established and well-conducted banks but from among those who otherwise would not place their money in any banking institution whatever.

The original act of Congress restricted the total amount to be placed on deposit at $500 and the deposit of this amount was limited to not more than $100 per month. Later the monthly limitation was entirely removed and the maximum amount increased first to $1,000 and then to the present amount, $2,500. Postmaster General Burleson, in the annual report just submitted to Congress recommends increasing the rate of interest to be paid depositors and action by Congress will, no doubt, be taken along these lines within the near future.
